EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

IN THE CLAIMS:

In claim 3, line 48, "power factor improving winding" has been changed to -- power factor improving primary winding--.

In claim 6, line 2, "claims 1, 3, and 5" has been changed to --claims 3 and 5--.

In claim 7, line 2, "claims 1, 3, and 5" has been changed to --claims 3 and 5--.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 3-9 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 3 recites, inter alia, a power factor improving transformer having a core in which a gap of a predetermined length is formed, and a power factor improving primary winding and a power factor improving secondary winding wound around the core, said power factor improving primary winding inserted in series with said primary side series resonant circuit and said power factor improving secondary winding connected in parallel with a rectifying current path formed as said rectifying and smoothing means being in a state of loose coupling; and a plurality of high-frequency rectifying devices connected in series with said power factor improving secondary winding, for performing switching operation in each positive/negative period of the alternating voltage induced in the power factor improving secondary winding by said power factor improving primary winding, said alternating voltage having a high frequency as compared with frequency of said alternating input voltage.

Claim 5 recites, inter alia, a power factor improving transformer having a core in which a gap of a predetermined length is formed, and a power factor improving primary winding and a power factor improving secondary winding wound around the core, said power factor improving primary winding inserted in series with said primary side series resonant circuit and said power factor improving secondary winding connected in parallel with a rectifying current path formed as said rectifying and smoothing means being in a state of loose coupling; wherein the rectifying devices of said rectifying and smoothing means perform switching operation on a basis of an alternating voltage induced in said power factor improving secondary winding by said power factor improving primary winding.

The art of record does not disclose the above limitations, nor would it be obvious to modify the art of record so as to include either of the above limitations.

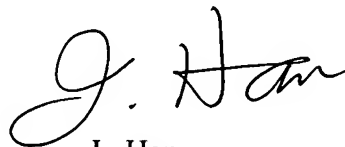

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
